

11 February: International Day of Women and Girls in Science 2020

Monday 10 February 2020

ICN2 Seminar Room

Join the discussion at the ICN2

10:30

Welcome

Dr Neus Domingo
CSIC Distinguished Researcher at the ICN2 Oxide Nanophysics Group and chair of the ICN2 Equality Committee

10:45

Gender perspective in research groups

Dr Jörg Müller
Sociologist, member of GenTIC

11:15

Gender perspective in science education

Dr Digna Couso
Physicist, PhD in science teaching and director of CRECIM

11:45

Round table with Jörg Müller, Digna Couso and Neus Domingo

Join a lively discussion around issues such as:

- Why is gender perspective important in research groups?
- Which situations should we prevent?
- Why is it relevant to consider gender perspective at school and high-school?
- What are we doing well and what else should be done?
- Who should lead such changes?

12:30

Award Ceremony

Join us to meet the winners of the ICN2 awards:

- Best Female PhD paper
- Best Female Postdoc paper
- Best Female PhD thesis

BOARD OF TRUSTEES: